1. What is this document?

- 1.1. This is not a stand-alone document. It is a technical compliance supplement to the Step 3D Consultation Feedback Report published on the Civil Aviation Authority's (CAA's) airspace change portal (link to Step 3D report), and should be considered as part of that primary document.
- 1.2. The airspace change process CAP1616 (link) paragraphs C38, C39 and Table C2 describe how consultation responses should be generally categorised in Step 3D:

| Step 3D: Collate & review responses (published outputs: sponsor's categorisation of responses) | | |
|---|---|--|
| Table C2: Categorisation of consultation responses | | |
| Type | Responses which may impact final proposals | Responses which do not impact final proposals |
| Description | Responses which have been categorised as having the potential to impact on the proposal would include new information or ideas that the change sponsor believes could lead to an adaptation in a lead design option or a new design option. | The content of this response would not include new information or ideas that could lead to an adaptation in a lead design option or a new design option but may include other information that should be logged and considered. For example responses which criticise the consultation format should give sponsors insight to improve future engagement; sentiments identified around trust will help to identify areas where additional future engagement may improve relationships; and criticism of historic activity may help to avoid similar situations in future. The change sponsor must be able to show how it has heard, understood and classified responses which do not impact its final proposal, and set out clearly why. |

- 1.3. This document lists the unique identifiers of all 2,426 responses and indicates those which may impact the final proposal, and those which would not, ensuring compliance with the process described in Figure 1 above.
- 1.4. The list is in chronological order. Where available, we have included a hyperlink to the CAA's Citizen Space¹ website which displays the selected response.
- 1.5. For technical reasons explained in paragraph 7.2 of the Step 3D Consultation Feedback Report, 77 of the 2,426 responses could not be published online due to a technical setting within the online questionnaire. These responses have a single reference identifier rather than the two standard CAA Citizen Space identifiers, they do not have a hyperlink, and they are partially shaded out.
- 1.6. All of them occur before row 765 on the list, because the technical setting was corrected at this point, as soon as the issue was identified.
- 1.7. The 77 are listed in Annex D of the Step 3D Consultation Feedback Report.

I responded to the consultation, how could I use this document?

- 1.8. Respondents to the consultation were automatically sent an acknowledgment email² containing a reference code in this format:
ANON-SJ4M-9xx-x or BHLF-SJ4M-9xx-x
- 1.9. Use the Find function of this PDF to look for the last 'xxx-x' letters and/or numbers, ensuring the hyphen is in the correct place. The PDF should take you to the correct page and will highlight the location of the response matching this identifying code.

What does the colour code mean?

- 1.10. Column 1 of the list contains one of the identifying reference codes.
 - If the code is in black text with green shading, then that response has been categorised as 'may impact final proposals'.
 - If the code is red text, then that response has been categorised as 'would not impact final proposals'.

¹ Citizen Space is the CAA's consultation website hosting service used by all airspace change sponsors.

² Assuming the email address used in the survey form was genuine, was correctly input, and was not sent to the respondent's junk or spam folder inadvertently

My response is green. Does this mean you will change the design exactly as I say?

- 1.11. All responses have been analysed in detail.
- 1.12. A green response means it was considered as having the potential to impact on the proposal, and would include new information or ideas that the change sponsor believes could lead to an adaptation in a lead design option, or to a new design option.
- 1.13. Responses marked green will have either directly contributed to future design decisions (for example, by making a specific design change recommendation), or indirectly contributed by providing useful information (for example, an opinion on flightpath concentration vs. dispersal).
- 1.14. This does not mean that the individual response will be accommodated in the final proposed design. However, in combination with all the other green-marked responses, inferences and conclusions can be drawn on a wider scale that may lead to a design-change decision.
- 1.15. The Step 3D Consultation Feedback Report has collated those inferences and conclusions, and the future Step 4A document will explain what actions will be taken to address them.

My response is red. Does this mean it has been ignored?

- 1.16. All responses have been analysed in detail.
- 1.17. A red response means it was not considered to include new information or ideas that could lead to an adaptation in a lead design option, or to a new design option. For example, statements about the conduct of the consultation are useful to us, but do not provide direction on the proposed airspace design.
- 1.18. The Step 3D Consultation Feedback Report describes how they were analysed (Section 8), provides analysis of what was said (Sections 9-14) and describes how we decided which of the resulting themes may impact the final proposal and which would not (Section 15).

2. About Issue 2

- 2.1. On 11th June 2021 we uploaded Issue 1 of this document, and also supplied the CAA with the full raw data for them to audit.
- 2.2. The CAA returned some queries and identified some inconsistencies which – after investigation – were attributable to two separate technical issues with the data processing tool that had affected a small proportion of responses and had gone unnoticed. We thank the CAA for bringing it to our attention, and also for highlighting a very small number of responses that had been incorrectly tagged.
- 2.3. This Issue 2 document supersedes Issue 1. It updates the categorisation list on the following pages and also lists the response IDs that changed colour (and in so doing, changed categorisation status).
- 2.4. 82 responses changed colour; this is fewer than 3.5% of the total number of responses (2,426):
 - 64 changed from red (would not impact final proposals) to green (may impact final proposals).
 - 18 changed from green (may impact final proposals) to red (would not impact final proposals).
 - Net, there are 46 more green responses in the Issue 2 categorisation list, i.e. 46 more responses overall were categorised as having the potential to impact final proposals (1.9% of the total).
 - These 46 responses were not themselves 'new', their contents had already been accounted for in the processing, it's simply their colour categorisation that has changed.
- 2.5. The corrections to both technical issues, and the resulting small-scale change to the results, provide assurance that the Step 3D Consultation Feedback Report is an accurate reflection of what was said in response to this consultation. The Summary List of Actions (Section 16 of that document) are accurate conclusions to this 'we asked, you said' stage of the consultation, and will be taken forward to Stage 4 of the airspace change process CAP1616.

The full categorisation list is followed by the list of responses that changed colour
