- ■ thanked ■ for his input and introduced ■ to provide guidance on the Consultation requirements of this ACP.
- ■ advised that the focus should be on the impacts of this ACP and Biggin Hill were advised to consider the guidance provided in Appendix C, table C1. Biggin Hill should present their argument for the scaling of the Consultation in the Consultation Strategy document (CAP1616 page 50). When considering the length of the consultation period, Sponsors should consider the guidance in the Length section of Table C1, CAP1616. This should provide the guidance required to establish a proposed length of consultation period and also the approach to be taken. ■ suggested that consideration of unexpected events, should be made in the Consultation Strategy. For example, possible extension of X weeks due to Y.
- ■ thanked ■ for her input and introduced ■ to provide Economic guidance.
- ■ suggested that Biggin Hill should provide justification of quantified impacts of the ACP by providing feedback on expected costs implications. This justification could be achieved through the storey telling process.
- ■ thanked ■ for her input and asked if Biggin Hill had any questions?
- ■ stated that due to the fact that this was an overlay of an existing procedure, the impacts would be similar to what is described in CAP1616 Part 1c paragraph 362, and that Biggin Hill could consider that a formal consultation was not necessary. However, throughout Stage 1 and Stage 2 of this ACP, Biggin Hill advised stakeholders that there would be a consultation regarding this ACP, which would be honoured. ■ asked if the Consultation strategy identified that a reduced consultation period was agreeable, could the Timeline for the ACP be brought forward?
- ■ advised that Biggin Hill could request an amendment to the timeline whenever they wished. Biggin Hill would need to submit a Timeline Change request form, which would be considered by the CAA. There being no further business, ■ confirmed the Biggin Hill would provide an initial copy of the minutes which would be reviewed by the CAA, prior to publication the CAA Portal, and the meeting was closed.
